

Minutes for July 8, 2019

The July pot luck meeting was held at the home of Scott and Marge Agnew. All the food was delicious and we thank you for your hospitality. Agenda items included Old Business, reviewing Onamia Days information as well as the July 3rd celebration. New business items include the upcoming Funtober event and scarecrow contest.

Old Business

The Onamia Days wrap up discussed the need for a new beer garden coordinator to supervise the booth for the event. One person who may be interested is Nicole Miller. The hamburger stand will also get a team together to help clean up after Onamia Days. In addition, the medallion hunt is looking for a person who would write the clues next year. The little miss and gents fee may increase to $50 next year to help cover the expenses. The expense list for Onamia days and July 3rd was almost complete, and the Civic association estimates about a $1000 profit after all is said and done. The Civic Association is going to start scouting bands for next years events soon.

The Onamia website is almost complete and licenses have been paid. Stay tuned.

New Business

We are seeking nominations for employee of the quarter. Please email your nomination to Sarah Lancaster or any board member or mail them to PO Box 114, Onamia MN 56359.

The second annual "Funtober" is scheduled for the second Saturday in October which is October 12, 2019 this year. The event will happen at Onamia City Park and will be fun for the whole family. We will have free pumpkins for kids to paint, smores, hot apple cider, and an area to take pictures. Stay tuned for more details.

We will hold another scarecrow contest this year. Entries may be due by the Funtober event, so we can display them around town during the Halloween season.

Next Meeting

Our next meeting is 7PM on August 12, 2019 at City Hall. Hope to see you all there!
